Campus Diary 2023

EDITORS' NOTE

The month of March was the month of accomplishments and vibrancy. While the institution had been recognized with top rankings and leadership awards, our students had been making a mark by winning awards in music, sports and project competitions. The educational sessions and industrial visits organized enabled our students to keep pace with the changing trends in Engineering and Technology.

A week long Women's Day Celebration brought out our campus' vibrancy sensitizing women students and faculty on keeping good health, knowing self-defence techniques, understanding Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH) Act, excelling in technological entrepreneurial careers, and achieving financial stability. What made it unique was its inclusiveness, emphasizing the need for men to reflect and reshape their positive masculine qualities to build a more egalitarian world. In a word, the month was fruitful. The current issue reflects all our accomplishments, initiatives and activities.
