

Dr. Chandramohan R, M.E., Ph.D

Associate Professor in Mechanical Engineering and DEAN – Industry Partnership & Corporate Affairs

A Mechanical Engineer with specialization in Refrigeration and Air-conditioning with PhD in cutting edge vapour compressor Refrigeration Technology from Anna University.

Dr Chandramohan, a seasoned professional with over 25+ years of experience, heads our placement efforts. After having worked as the head of R&D for various Fortune 500 MNCs, he became a mentor and training expert, focusing on the engineering higher education field. Dr. Chandra is ably supported by the placement cell, which has over 30 professors and a well-organized student placement coordination team.

The team believes in building strong corporate relationships and delivering value to both the recruiter and student. They liaise constantly with our alumni resources, at every stage in the training and placement process, ensuring that juniors benefit from the experiences and knowledge of their seniors.

Experienced mentor, coach , motivational speaker on various skill developments and a specialist in Thermal Science, Cryogenics, Refrigeration and Air-conditioning design and Developments in the International companies in the past. Delivering the real time research concepts to the students and helping the placements in core engineering streams.